

Pretend you are your lunch. Write a story about what happens to you on your journey through the digestive system.